Pelvic Heart Integration®

is a unique and powerful approach that focuses on Love (Heart) and Sexuality (Pelvic). We are all longing for a healthy, stable and dynamic relationship where we can find sexual and emotional fulfillment. Yet, we often are unconsciously acting out, repeating or re-creating sexual and emotional bonding patterns rooted in early childhood, related to our eternal (introjected) largely unconscious inner family triangle.

This comprehensive 3 year PHI-training provides a valuable framework for sexual healing – both in the sense of unraveling sexual dysfunction and in the sense of restoring trust and harmony between men and women or between homosexual partners.

The goal of the PHI method is to support a new and steady stream of pleasure, excitement and love inside of us, to connect the natural flow and rhythm between heart and pelvis and to unite the feminine and masculine aspects within us.

Who benefits from this training

Since we are all sexual beings who may have experienced insufficient or inadequate emotional, physical, cognitive and spiritual contact with our parents as a child, almost everybody can gain from this program.

Professionals like psychotherapists, psychologists, sexual pedagogues, Tantra teachers, body therapists, creative therapists, somatic and spiritual teachers, coaches, counsellors and facilitators will benefit from the PHI 3-year program.

When we create this inner fusion, we become our own best lover. Our male and female parts are then harmonized within us, we are able to bring both passion and harmony to our interactions with our partners, loved ones and to the larger world. Once this inner integration is completed, it gives us sensual grounding and profound joy... physically, emotionally, cognitively and spiritually. Fear-less of losing the other or ourselves, we can now share our body ecstasy that radiates from our core and allow ourselves deep fulfilling encounters with others. This inner joy is solidly anchored and can not be destroyed, whether the lover is present or absent.

The PHI process helps recapture childhood innocence, curiosity and excitement at each stage of our lives. Furthermore it allows you to free yourself from old dysfunctional patterns and become a mature, self-validating individual who is able to establish vital contact with others.
